

A Vision For The Future

“Ironically, those of us who live in the Arctic and have contributed the least to climate change stand to be most impacted by it. But we are not victims of climate change. We are resilient and adaptable people who are also presented with the greatest opportunities to benefit from its effects.

New shipping and transportation routes, tourism and infrastructure potential, and access to untapped natural resources are just a few of the possibilities that lie ahead for our region. My vision for the future of the Arctic is not only promising, it’s endless.”
