

A Vision For The Future

“The United States is an Arctic nation entirely because of Alaska. Yet when it comes to Arctic policy decisions – many of which only affect Arctic inhabitants – it’s those who have never set foot in our state or region who often make the rules.

My vision for the future is an Arctic where environmental, subsistence, economic and resource development policies reflect the true needs and concerns of the Arctic people – first and foremost.”

– Matthew Rexford

PRESIDENT, KAKTOVIK IÑUPIAT CORPORATION

VOICE OF THE ARCTIC IÑUPIAT

voiceofthearcticinupiat.org

 @VOICE_Arctic