

A blue-tinted photograph of several Inuit people, likely drummers, in profile. They are holding large, oval-shaped drums and drumsticks, appearing to be in the middle of a performance. The image is partially obscured by a white overlay on the right side where the text is located.

Protecting our values

Cooperation. Hard work. Respect for others and for nature.

These are some of our Inupiat values. They are part of our culture that has been passed down from our Elders for thousands of years, and will be passed down to future generations of our youth for thousands more.

As Inupiat, it is our culture, land and resources that will be most affected by decisions made in the Arctic. By remaining involved and speaking as one, we will ensure that no one speaks for us when it comes to important issues in our region. We will ensure that our cultural values are always protected for future generations of Arctic Inupiat.

Our voice. Our vision.
