

Poor decisions

Are made by those unaffected by them

Thousands of years of traditional knowledge has made the Arctic one of the best managed environments on Earth. But outsiders think they can manage our resources better. From endangered species listings threatening our subsistence to poor policies stifling our economy, they'll say and do anything to control our land and livelihood. It's time to stand together for what's right in the Arctic.

Our voice. Our vision.

voiceofthearcticinupiat.org

@VOICE_Arctic

@VoiceoftheArctic